

Youth Transition Conferences

What are Youth Transition Conferences (YTCs)?

YTCs are meetings where a youth, family, and other support people plan how to support the youth as they leave foster care and become an adult. YTCs are run by a facilitator and the youth.

What are the benefits of YTCs?

Plan with family and other support people

Share your voice in decision-making

Reconnect with family and community members

Bring people together to discuss options

Create a plan to support the youth

Frequently Asked Questions

When can YTCs be used?

- Generally when a youth is 16-18 years old and leaving foster care in the next few years
 - Can have multiple YTCs to continue planning

How much do YTCs cost?

- Free for all participants
 - Extra costs (e.g., childcare, transportation, technology) may be covered by the youth's social worker

How do you start a YTC?

You can:

- Tell your social worker you're interested in a YTC
